

BLACK LIVES MATTER

"Pietà" – Tylonn J. Sawyer

"If you have come here to help me, you are wasting your time. But if you have come because your liberation is bound up with mine, then let us work together."

Aboriginal activists group, Queensland, 1970s

As women we are summoned to a common purpose: to love fiercely, to nurture and protect all children, no matter what age, race, gender or creed. Therefore, responding as TUCWomen to the call "I can't breathe... Mama...", and living up to our First Principle to honor the inherent worth and dignity of every person, we proclaim with words and deeds that Black Lives Matter.

We align with our goals to INSPIRE, CONNECT and ACT, putting our faith into action by committing to the lifelong work of becoming antiracist within ourselves and in the world. We inspire inward journeys and courageous conversations to uncover our own unconscious contributions to systemic racism and white privilege. Humbly, we listen from the heart, act according to our values and connect with others to collaborate in building and promoting programs and policies advancing peace, liberty, and justice for the Black community.

We welcome each of you, women of all ages and backgrounds from TUCW and the wider community, to do what women do best: join together as an invincible force. Together, we are creating a world that is just, compassionate and unwavering in the truth that Black Lives Matter.

TUCWOMEN

A place for sisterhood, intimacy and deeper connections

